

Statement on the Restriction of Hazardous Substances (RoHS) Directive

EVPARTS is committed to ensure that our products and operations comply with relevant environmental legislation and regulations, to responsibly manage the use of hazardous materials in our operations, products and services, and promote recycling or reuse of our products. EVPARTS is committed to eliminate all potentially harmful materials in its products while ensuring high product quality and reliability. The European Union Restriction of Hazardous Substances (RoHS) Directive 2015/863/EU restricts the use of ten substances in electrical and electronic products: Lead (Pb), Mercury (Hg), Cadmium (Cd), Hexavalent chromium (Cr VI), Polybrominated biphenyls (PBBs), Polybrominated diphenyl ethers (PBDEs), Bis(2-ethylhexyl) phthalate (DEHP), Benzyl butyl phthalate (BBP), Dibutyl phthalate (DBP) and Diisobutyl phthalate (DIBP).

The present status for each of the ten RoHS substances is given below:

PBB and PBDE:

The two groups of brominated flame retardants are prohibited from use in EVPARTS products.

Mercury and Cadmium:

EVPARTS products have no intentional addition of Mercury (Hg) or Cadmium (Cd) and any trace impurities of these substances are below the threshold limits as specified by the RoHS directive

Hexavalent chromium:

Components and surface finishes that contain Hexavalent chromium are prohibited from use in EVPARTS products.

Lead:

EVPARTS uses industry accepted and tested lead-free solders in all products.

DEHP, BBP, DBP and DIBP:

The four phthalate plasticisers are prohibited from use in EVPARTS products.

EVPARTS believes to the best of its knowledge that the above statements are accurate as of the date of this statement and the statements and certifications of suppliers or service providers of EVPARTS may have been relied upon in the preparation of this statement. Within the above defined limitations this statement may be relied upon by the distributors and customers of RoHS designated products of EVPARTS. This statement is valid unless superseded by a revised statement at a later date.
